OPEN INVITATION

Rialto Square Theatre Seeks Your Input Towards Creating a Cultural Agenda

Joliet, IL: Are you interested in seeing new musical events on the Rialto schedule? Would you like to see a more diverse performing arts line-up added to the Rialto's presentation of events? Then please join us in creating a Rialto Cultural Agenda on Tuesday, June 14 at 7PM in the Rialto Square Theatre Rotunda located at 102 N. Chicago Street, Joliet, IL. You will meet with Rialto General Manager, Randy Green, and staff. Bring your ideas. Share your passion for music, theatre, dance in order to help us learn of these interests and determine how this might help us create a new cultural agenda for the Rialto.

“The Rialto is interested in determining if there are programs outside of our usual offerings that we should and could be offering the public,” stated Randy Green. “What if we discovered that quite a few people would attend a world music concert or a classical ballet performance of Swan Lake or Sleeping Beauty? Or, that there is interest in a jazz or classical music program? That is something I need to know.”

A cultural agenda would guide an expansion of programming presented at the Rialto to serve community interests. Please email your comments and ideas to information@rialtosquare.com.

Green went on further to say, “I know most of our shows are of a popular variety which translates to “commercially successful.” “As a cultural institution with a mission ‘to enrich the quality of life by encouraging artistic and cultural development’ I think we need to do more.”
